NEWBERRY, Aug. 15.

The rebel cavalry, which lately fell upon this part, with a number of Tarleton's men, which was taken from the left of the enemy, by a small party of Tarleton's men, who had no idea of the danger.

WILLIAMSBURG, Sep. 5.

Yesternight there was a general retreat, and the enemy passed Williamsburg, with no pursuit. The rebels are reported to be marching towards Richmond.

Adventures.

At a meeting of the Judges and Grand Juries of York and Queen Anne's Counties, the 8th of August, 1777.

It appears, from the report of the committee appointed to examine the College fund, that great errors have been committed, for many persons have been excluded from a liberal education, and the amount of the fund has been insufficient to cover the expenses of the school.
